

Orion News Release June 11, 2021

Laconia, NH June 11, 2021 – Orion Entrance Control, Inc., a manufacturer and supplier of converged entry technology, appointed Pierre Bourgeix as an embedded consultant. Bourgeix brings over 30 years of security experience through his work at The Rand Corporation, U.S. State Department, ADT/Tyco Security, HySecurity, Wallace International, SecureState, and BoonEdam. With Bourgeix’s expertise, Orion looks to expand its influence nationally and internationally.

“I am excited to join Orion Entrance Control, Inc. in its quest to develop the most formidable integrated and converged entry platform in the industry. Orion has postured itself to take that next step in becoming an industry leader.”

Orion Entrance Control, Inc.’s CEO Steve Caroselli states, “Pierre’s experience in the physical and cybersecurity industry will be of great help as we continue to grow globally.”

Bourgeix’s competencies center around physical and cybersecurity governance. He has a proven track record of success working with the U.S. Secret Service, National Security Agency (NSA), and the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). Bourgeix’s other knowledge areas include electronic security, managed services security, information technology (IT), and cybersecurity. Today, Bourgeix is a respected industry expert and is involved in developing security standards testing products, systems, and solutions.

Bourgeix holds master’s degrees in Behavioral Education and International Business Management, with a bachelor’s degree in History and Political Science. He is also a member of the U.S. Naval Institute and is fluent in English, French, and Arabic.

Loyola Marymount University BA, BS
California State Long Beach MA
UCLA Anderson School MBA

Cutline: Global security expert Pierre Bourgeix